

Hanimaadhoo International Airport: Air Connectivity and Related Developments

Hanimaadhoo International Airport under development in north of Maldives, is set to undergo transformative development aimed at boosting air connectivity and positioning the region as a critical hub for tourism and related economic activities. At a distance of 458km from India, the strategic expansion of the airport will unlock immense potential for economic growth, enhancing the flow of international tourists, and facilitating business operations, trade, and other high-value sectors in the northern Maldives.

Hanimaadhoo International, Air Connectivity and Related Developments

Investment Areas

- Tourism and Hospitality: Construction of high-end resorts, eco-friendly accommodations, and facilities tailored to the tourist market.
- Cargo and Logistics Facilities: Enhanced cargo terminal for handling increased freight, offering investors opportunities to support regional trade.
- Retail and Duty-Free Shopping: Development of commercial areas within the airport to offer travelers a wide range of shopping and leisure experiences.

The government welcomes contractor-financed developments, joint ventures, and other flexible business models tailored to investor preferences.

This is an opportunity to capitalize on the rising demand for air travel, expand your presence in the Maldives, and contribute to the transformation of the northern region into a world-class tourism and logistics hub. We welcome proposals and inquiries from investors keen on driving this vision forward.
